Pulses—Shortage of

* 1720 Q.—SRI N. K. PALANISAMI : Will the Hon. the Minister for Home be pleased to state—

(a) whether there is any shortage of pulses in this State; and

(b) if so, the steps taken to import more pulses?

THE HON. SRI M. BHAKTAVATSALAM : (a) There was some shortage of pulses in this State during May-June 1961.

(b) The shortage of pulses was due to non-availability of bookings and due to restriction in the allotment of wagons for transport from the supplying centres in the Punjab, Uttar Pradesh and other Northern States. The Government of India have been moved to allot the requisite number of wagons. They have since replied that metre gauge specials are being arranged from the Northern Railway to the Southern Railway as far as possible.

SRI N. K. PALANISAMI : In spite of these measures, there is still deficit of pulses in the State. So, will the Government take suitable steps to import more pulses into this State?

THE HON. SRI M. BHAKTAVATSALAM : The Government have been looking into this matter. I cannot admit that there is shortage of pulses which are available in this State. But it is true that pulses have to come from North India.
